Humphrey will stand trial for murder

Kevin Joseph Humphrey will stand trial this fall on a charge of first degree murder in the shooting death of Charles Earl Palmer at his parent's cottage at Bob Lake west of Minden. The decision to have the charge heard by the Ontario Supreme Court was made at a preliminary hearing last Monday and Tuesday July 18 and 19 in Lindsay.

Provincial Judge P.E.D. Baker presided at the hearing. The charge will likely be heard during the fall assizes of the Supreme Court.

Humphrey was charged after the body of Palmer was found at his parent's cottage March 26. Following the shooting, police mounted a massive manhunt which extended to all corners of Haliburton County, Toronto and as far as Florida.

Humphrey turned himself over to police at the Toronto International Airport April 1.

No date for the trial has been set.

Driver killed in cycle accident

A motorcycle accident on Highway 35 south of Minden has taken the life of a Willowdale man.

Mark McCune, 28, of Willowdale was northbound on the highway when he lost control of the motorcycle. The vehicle and driver left the roadway and struck a culvert. McCune was thrown off the bike, which then fell on top of the driver.

McCune was taken from Minden Red Cross Hospital to Toronto General Hospital where he died Monday of injuries received in the mishap.

The investigating officer was Constable Brian Dunham.

Who says clowns are just for kids? Corky, the Shriners clown who was in attendance Saturday at the Stanhope Fun Day doesn't mind sharing his good cheer with all ages. Here he greets two ladies arriving to enjoy the senior citizens tea. The annual community-family picnic in Stanhope was a huge success once again this year. For more pictures of the day's fun, turn to page 5.

Heineken Yard will raise funds for team

The Heineken Yard 7.2 kilometre (4.5 mile) road race will double this year as a competitive running event, and a fund raiser for the Canadian Select Bobsled Team. The race will be held Friday, July 29 at 4:30 p.m. in Minden.

The Heineken Yard will be run over a course from the Onondaga Camp Gate to the traditional finish in front of the Rockcliffe Tavern.

This will be the eleventh running of this popular event.

Adding to the spectacle of more than 200 competing runners will be the colourful presence of the Canadian Select Bobsled team and their training bobsled.

The national bobsled team, top ten finishers at the 1982 World Championship, will be pushing their sled over the final mile of the course. The sled will be on wheels barring a heavy, late July snowstorm.

Many runners will be running the race with pledges towards the support of the Canadian Select Bobsled team, and all race entries will go directly towards defraying the "sledders" training costs.

An award presentation will be held at the Rockcliffe Tavern following completion of the race.

Fire danger rating listed as extreme

As the area stretches into its sixth week without significant rainfall, Ministry of Natural Resources personnel at the Minden office are keeping a close eye on the forests. According to Bob Musclow, head of the district's fire crew, the fire danger in the area has reached the extreme rating.

He notes that this rating indicates that the forest is just about as dry as it can get. The seriousness of fire danger could only be increased by higher winds which would fan the flames of any fire which got a toe-hold in the tinder dry conditions.

According to Musclow, the local office has received reports of 18 fires since Friday. Some of these have been dealt with by the fire wardens stationed throughout the various municipalities. Others were controlled by local fire brigades, and in other instances the MNR crew was sent out to bring the blazes under control.

"Most of the fires we are seeing these days are being caused by campfires," Musclow reported. "People are leaving fires unattended or not extinguishing them completely." He noted that three fires during the weekend were related to fires in municipal garbage dumps.

Despite the extreme fire conditions, the ministry is still issuing fire permits, although their validity is limited to only three days and the hours of burning are tightly controlled. Burning is not permitted between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. when, as Musclow explained, the fire danger is at its highest. "The temperatures are high, the humidity drops and the winds pick up. It is a great time for a fire to get a start." Musclow noted that in the early morning hours the dew helps to control the spread of fire while in the evening the increase in humidity and drop in winds and temperature also helps reduce the risk of fire spread.

"We haven't had any fires getting out of control from people holding fire permits," Musclow pointed out. "They are good about keeping their fires under control. It is the campfires which have been giving us a problem." He noted that there is, as yet, no area within the Algonquin region where the issuing of fire permits has been stopped.

Musclow asked those people planning to travel in area forests to be particularly careful with campfires, ensuring they are completely out before leaving them.

In the meantime, Musclow and his staff will remain on call responding to the calls as received and scanning the skies, looking for the rain which will help ease the fire danger rating across the area.

Most stores open Monday

While most other areas in the province enjoy a holiday this Monday, Civic Holiday, stores and most services in the Haliburton Highlands will remain open.

The civic holiday is one of the few in the yearly calendar in which municipal authorities can set the date. In this case, throughout the Highlands, most municipalities choose to take the holiday in mid-September. This means that stores and services throughout the area will be open Monday to meet the needs of the many visitors in the Highlands. Most will be open regular Monday hours closing at the usual times.

The only exception to the rule appears to be the post offices which will close this Monday throughout the Highlands.

New manager takes over at Chamber

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce has a new manager. Frank McCarron took over the post several weeks ago.

Frank replaces Bob Stinson who has stepped down from the full-time position to take on part-time responsibilities for the Chamber's public relations.

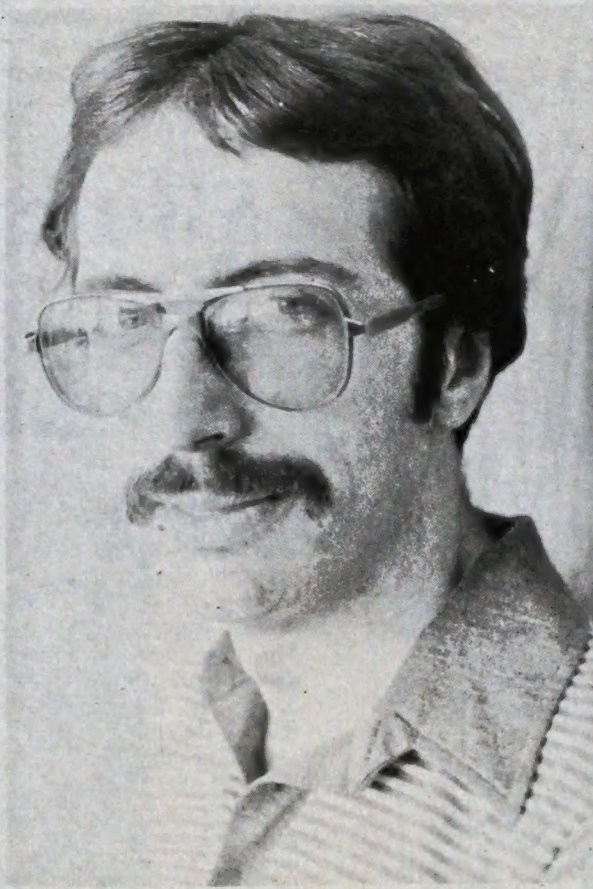

McCarron is a native of Amherstburg, Ontario, near Windsor. He comes to the Highlands from Brampton where he was employed by Eplett's Dairy in production control and public relations.

A graduate of Wilfrid Laurier University in Waterloo McCarron has a degree in Business Administration, majoring in marketing. He is familiar with the Highlands. His family spent many summers camping at the Northern Eagle campground on Lake Kashagawigamog.

The new manager thinks this part of Ontario has a great deal of development potential. "At the moment we are relying on the eight week summer season to carry most of our businesses," he pointed out. "If that could even be stretched by one week, that would mean an increase in business of 12%."

McCarron agrees that expanding the tourism season into the winter is difficult for some resorts because of the expenses required to winterize the premises. But he notes that other facilities have done so and greatly increased their potential market. "This area has great potential for year-round tourism," he commented.

At the moment McCarron's duties involve the operation of the business office at the information centre, writing a weekly newspaper column, acting as secretary of the Chamber's board of directors among others. "When I'm not busy with these responsibilities," he says with a grin that indicates spare time is not a surplus commodity. "I'm trying to get around to visit the members of the Chamber. I want to hear that their concerns and complaints are. I know I won't be able to resolve them all, but where possible I'll attempt to do something about the things brought to my attention."

In addition to the duties of his new post, Frank is also busy relocating in the Highlands. He has recently rented a home in Lutterworth Pines and is in the process of settling in.

Local minister attending WCC conference

For 400,000,000 church members from over 300 different groups around the world, the focus of attention for the next few weeks will be Vancouver, British Columbia and the gathering of the World Council of Churches. Delegates from various denominations will be attending the meetings, discussions and worship services which will take place during the 18 day conference. Among those in attendance is the minister of St. Paul's Anglican Church in Minden, Father George Elliott.

"I won't be attending as an official delegate," Father Elliott commented last week, "however my capacity as an 'accredited visitor' will allow me to take part in the debates, discussions and activities which are part of the conference. The only restriction on my participation is that I cannot vote," he said.

It is expected that approximately 1000 full delegates from around the globe will be in attendance. The assigning of delegates has been done in relation to the churches they represent, and the Anglican Church of Canada, for example, is represented by five delegates. Similarly, the number of accredited visitors has been allotted to various churches based on their size. As Father Elliott noted, this system has increased the impact representatives of third world nations will have on the decisions taken at the conference. Some of the decisions the WCC has taken in the past have drawn controversial reaction from politicians, church leaders and others.

Father Elliott, while acknowledging the controversial nature of some of the WCC actions in the past, places a great deal of emphasis on the positive aims of the gathering. "The World Council of Churches is helping break down theological barriers which have divided the world's churches in the past. It provides a meeting ground where serious discussion can take place about differences that have divided denominations in the past".

The local minister admits that this is perhaps one of the toughest tasks before the group. Compromise, though a worthwhile exercise, he points out, can be carried to the point where the end result contains little or no substance.

Started in 1920's
The World Council of Churches is an organization which can trace its roots back to the 1920's when missionaries of various denominations would hold meetings to discuss issues of common concern. In the late 1940's the WCC was formally created and has met at eight year intervals ever since.

Most of the major Protestant sects of the world are represented on the council with some notable exceptions. The Roman Catholic Church has been reluctant to join although they have a large contingent of observers in attendance. A number of fundamentalist churches have also been reluctant to join the organization, mainly because of the militant stand the organization has taken on a number of issues, including racism, the role of capitalism in a Christian society and some of the values which western Christians have attempted to impose or see adopted in third world nations.

Criticism of the WCC has strengthened the organization Father Elliott feels. He thinks that the criticism has made the churches and their members examine the stand they have taken and they have emerged from the exercise more convinced than ever in the correctness of the position they have taken.

"It is often difficult for us, in North America, to relate to the issues that trouble churches in third world nations," Father Elliott commented. "We are comfortable here, we live in a democracy where the immediate needs of individuals are taken care of." He notes that countries where police drag individuals away in the middle of the night, or where the provision of clean water is a major community goal, view the world from a perspective which is totally different than our own.

This different perspective is reflected in the resolutions endorsed by the council in the past, resolutions which have often drawn the criticism of others.

"In many ways the WCC is calling on Christians around the world to take a stand. Specifically, it is reminding rich Christians that there are poor Christians in this world and challenging those with resources to apply Christian teaching in sharing."

8 main areas

During the 18 day conference the delegates and guests will discuss a large number of topics arranged under eight major headings. Among those are: Christians in the midst of a society of multiple faiths, a situation which Father Elliott notes applies increasingly to Canada; working together; moving toward including those who have been excluded in the past, for example the aged, the young, handicapped, women; health, putting control of people's well-being in the hands of who it most directly affects; peace and world survival; justice and human dignity, both these items relate directly to political and economic involvement and action; education, specifically, how the churches of the world can make the faith they teach "real" for their members; and finally communicating with conviction, basically having one's life reflect the values a person believes.

Father Elliott's interest in the WCC meeting is reflected in his training as a minister, which took place at the ecumenical Toronto School of Theology. As well, during his first charge in Erin Mills, he was part of a four denominational group which share church facilities. He applied to attend the WCC conference in December and was accepted as one of the Anglican Church of Canada's few accredited visitors.

"I am looking forward to the debates and discussions," Father Elliott commented, "but the opportunity to meet and discuss issues with members of other denominations from around the world is just as exciting as well." He hopes that meeting these individuals on a one to one basis will help increase his understanding of their perspective of the world just as he hopes they will gain some insight into his outlook.

An excellent program

Over the next nine months, residents of the Minden and Haliburton areas will have an opportunity of witnessing the unfolding of an interesting and innovative program designed to strengthen the bonds which unite our nation. We refer to the two Katimavik projects which started in each community at the beginning of the month.

Under federal sponsorship, 12 youths, representing the geographical, ethnic, economic, social, linguistic and cultural diversity of Canada will be brought together to learn from each other, to learn about each other and learn about their country. The group of 12 will each have three homes over the next nine months, staying here for a third of the program then travelling to Quebec for three months and then British Columbia for the final portion.

During their stay they will be involved in work that will leave the host community richer for their presence and help to give the participants a better appreciation of the communities of Minden or Haliburton. Interestingly the participants are paid only one dollar per day (plus room and board) for their efforts, a indication that these people anticipate gaining more than financial rewards for taking part in the program.

We welcome these young people to our community and wish them well in their endeavours. They will leave behind tangible evidence if their presence here, but we feel that not only will Haliburton County be a better place because they made their home for a brief period, but our nation will profit immensely as well.

Cool cat

Studying conflict laws letters

-by Bill Scott, M.P.-

Members of Parliament carry on very serious responsibility to their constituents and to the House of Commons. We must represent the best interests of our constituents in the House of Commons and serve as representatives of the federal government in our constituencies. In order to do so properly there must be no doubt as to our intentions and sincerity.

In the few months of 1979 that the government of Joe Clark was in power, guidelines regarding conflict of interests were established for members of the governing party and their staff. These guidelines caused some difficulty, as they were very rigid. What they accomplished was to ensure that not only were members and staff prohibited from making a financial gain out of their position but also that the public could see that their elected officials were expected to be acting solely for the benefit of the public.

Since 1980, it has become increasingly evident that no such guidelines are enforced by the current government. Several former ministers have taken advantage of their positions and their friends in government to sponsor their private ventures. When asked if this did not constitute a conflict of interest Cabinet spokesmen said that after all there were no hard and fast rules only guidelines. It appeared the only thing that would convince them to enforce these guidelines is if a member was convicted in a court of law.

In early July of this year, the government appointed the Hon. Mitchell Sharp and the Hon. Michael Starr to head a task force studying the problem of conflict of interest. I do not think they could have made better choices. Both these honourable gentlemen are above reproach. They have both served our country well as senior Ministers and their reputation for fairness is well known.

They have been given the responsibility of defining the best means to restore the confidence of Canadians in our federal institutions. I am somewhat concerned however that they may be being used as political pawns. I say this because they have been given quite a restricted mandate. They have been told that they are not to examine past questions of conflict of interests and that they must report by December 31st. I hope this is not just a way of sweeping past discrepancies under the rug.

I wish this Task Force good luck and I urge the government to implement their recommendations rather than ignore them, as has been their habit in the past with such reports.

RE: Kanawa Museum
Even if the Kanawa International Canoe Museum stays in Haliburton County it will not give this area the boost it needs. What it needs is better promotion of its assets!

Do you realize how few people outside of this area are aware of the existence of an International Canoe Museum in Ontario? And better still, how many know where Haliburton County is?

The Highlands have always had the potential of becoming a major north American tourist area, as prosperous as any. Unfortunately however, the attitude towards tourism in this area is far too smug, unimaginative and short-sighted. As long as this situation prevails, no real tourism growth can be expected. Chances are that the few, movable attractions, still within the County will be grabbed by less complacent, tourism-promoting neighbours!

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

Two years ago, Premier William Davis promised to establish a citizen's advisory committee to give the public a window on government decisions to exempt projects from the Environmental Assessment Act. The Act is a fine piece of paper which theoretically provides for public hearings into developments which might degrade the environment. But its potential remains largely untapped and unknown because only the escape clause has been used with regularity exempting such major controversial development as the Darlington Nuclear power station and Detour Lake highway.

In 1981 its stock was so low that the Provincial Transport Ministry simply ignored the Act in constructing Highway 404. Rallying to this offence, conservationists successfully prosecuted the Minister, then won the Premier's commitment to appoint a committee to "allow for public input before a government decision has been made" an exemption requests from project proponents.

Two years of unnecessary delay and still more exemptions followed, but on July 4, 1983 in one of his last acts as Environment Minister, the Honourable Keith Horton announced the establishment of the Ontario Environmental Assessment Advisory Committee. Its primary function is to review requests for exemptions paying particular attention to the reasons for the request, such as concern for public health and economic necessity.

Fun in Stanhope

The weatherman shone on the Stanhope Fun Day once again this year as people came from far and wide to take part in the community picnic. The day featured games and contests for the children, a horseshoe tournament, beef barbeque, mutt show, demonstration by the Stanhope Fire Department, a model rocket display, tea for seniors, dance and much more.

Those lazy, hazy days of summer have arrived at last in Haliburton County. The crowds in the towns seem to be larger by the day. As the heat in the big cities increases and more and more stores run out of electric fans more and more people are coming to cottage country. We can only hope that this heat wave lasts into August.

One way that people in Haliburton are coping with the heat is to go for a refreshing swim in the lake. Every day more and more people seem to be taking an opportunity to jump in the river.

An alternative way to keep cool is to find a good book and curl up with it under a large tree. A book that has recently come to our attention is the book "River of Life" by Joy Mackinnon Ballard. Ms. Ballard is the owner and operator of Heather House Gifts near Wilberforce. This book is a charming collection of poems and verse on various topics that will amuse and entertain almost everyone. Copies of the book are available at the Chamber Office and at gift stores across the county.

One of the farthest things from anyone's mind in this hot weather seems to be winter sports. And yet, Friday there will be a bobsled team in Minden. The Toronto Star devoted a half page in a recent issue to the Canadian Select Bobsled Team which will be participating in the Heineken Yard, that famous road race that takes place during the last week in July. All proceeds from their participation go to the Canadian Select Bobsled Team for their challenge in the 1984 Winter Olympics at Sarajevo, Yugoslavia. It is rare that one gets to see bobsledding in Haliburton County and even rarer that one gets to see it in the middle of the summer.

To see and do

On July 29th at the Minden Library/Cultural Centre there will be a puppet show at 3 p.m. Among the plays being performed will be Aladin's Lamp and Aesop's Fables by Deckhands Puppets.

The Women's Institute will be holding their bake and craft sale on August 5th at 10 a.m. on the Bank of Commerce lawn in Minden.

Continuing until the 31st is the annual show of the Haliburton School of Fine Arts Faculty at the Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton. This wonderful show featuring painting, sculptures, fibre art, wood craft and metal work is on view from 11 to 5 on Tuesday to Saturday and from 1 to 4 on Sunday.

On July 28th the Muskoka Summer Theatre will be presenting "Pool's Paradise" a zany English comedy at the Haliburton Legion Hall. Tickets are $10.00 and are available at the Rails' End Gallery and at the door the night of the performance.

July 27 should prove to be a bazaar day. There'll be a bazaar and tea at Halls Lake sponsored by Club 35 and the Minden U.C.W. will be holding a bazaar and bake sale at the Minden United Church.

A very pleasant way to spend a hot summer day is by taking a walk in the woods. On July 27th you can spend the afternoon in the woods at the Leslie Frost Natural Resources Centre south of Dorset. This free program will be led by an interpreter who will explain how the forest around you has developed from an open field. If you are lucky you may even see some of the birds and beasts that inhabit the forests in Haliburton County. The program will begin at 1:30 and will last about 2 hours.

It is carnival time once again in Minden. The Minden Rotary Club annual Summer Carnival gets underway complete with a midway, dancing, beer garden, games of chance, and a huge parade through the village of Minden. One highlight of this will be the Heineken Yard, five mile foot race from Camp Onondaga to the Rockcliffe Tavern on Friday, July 29th at 4 p.m. Participating in the race will be the Canadian Select Bobsled Team.

Old Time Horseshoe Days get underway in Gooderham on July 29th to 31st. This annual carnival features a talent contest, demolition derby, bake sales and dance all centered around a horseshoe pitching tournament. On Friday night there will be dancing to bluegrass music and on Saturday there will be dancing to big band music.

A good opportunity to buy some of the best baked goods this side of heaven will be at the Kinmount United Church on July 30th when Kinmount U.C.L.W. hold their bake sale.

Three Wheel Racing will be found at the Minden Fair Grounds on Saturday, July 30th, when Haliburton County Snowmobile Association presents three wheel racing in stock and modified classes. Racing on Ontario premier natural terrain ATV track will begin at 12:30 p.m. with registration beginning at 11 a.m. Admission is $2.00 and the entry fee is $5.00 per class.

The hills will be alive with sights and sounds of four wheel drive racing on July 30 and 31st at Bill's Hills near Wilberforce. There will be drag races on Saturday and obstacle and wheel to wheel races on Sunday. There will be an admission charge for this Ontario Four Wheel Drive Association sanctioned event.

Fun for every member of the family will be found during Dorset Pioneer Week July 30th to August 6th. There will be flea markets, bake sales, displays, pancake breakfasts, a baseball tournament, parade, barbecue, dancing, log rolling and much much more. All the proceeds from this week go to the Dorset Community Centre building fund. Further information can be found by calling Priscilla Lewis in Dorset at 766-2468.

Finally, the Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden Cultural Centre will be holding their fourth annual art and craft show and sale featuring local arts and crafts from July 30th to August 17th. The Gallery is open from ten to five Monday to Saturday.

All in all it is a very busy week in the County.

Lawyer Marie Corbett, the committee also includes well-known environmentalist Monte Hummel, of Cookstown, and former Ontario Revenue Minister Lorne Maeck, of South River.

The committee itself has no formal power, only some general terms of reference from which to develop specific operating procedures. It does appear that committee members will have an opportunity to review all exemption requests before a government decision and that the advice they tender will be placed on public file by the Environment Ministry.

However its not at all clear in which cases the committee's review will be announced and open to public input, or how quickly its advice will be publicly available. So there are some basic questions left to answer in the months ahead. Very likely, the first few assignments which the committee undertakes will set precedents and therefore deserve special attention.

Realistically, the Davis government faces a real challenge in building public confidence in its environmental legislation and the committee alone is not nearly enough. But it marks one small promise kept and hopefully an important step towards keeping the much larger one made in 1975 when Ontario's pioneering Environmental Assessment Act was passed.

Farmers look for rain

Local farmers aren't panicking yet about the stretch of hot, dry weather, but any sign of rain is a welcome relief, according to a local agricultural spokesman.

Carm Hamilton, a spokesman for the Ministry of Agriculture office in Lindsay, told The Times that some area farmers are having more trouble with the drought than others.

"Pastures are drying up quickly, and it's possible that farmers could be forced to use winter hay to supplement the summer pastures," Hamilton said. "If this weather continues, people could start getting uptight about it."

Hamilton cautions that it is difficult to assess the potential damage that an extended drought could cause, because of the varying soil conditions in Victoria County, and the wide variety of types of farming in the area.

"Some farms have sandy soils, which dry out quickly, and those farmers could be hurting," he said. "Heavy clay soils, on the other hand, retain moisture longer."

Part of the problem, Hamilton added, is that the area received abnormally heavy rainfall in May, followed by an unusually hot summer. The result is that some clay soils became soaked with water and then baked brick-hard by the hot sun making proper cultivation difficult.

"We've had five weeks of hot dry weather, but some areas have received a lot of rain through local storms," Hamilton said. "There's no major problem yet, but we sure need a good soaking rain."

Local weather reports have predicted that the hot, dry weather will continue until at least Friday, extending the duration of local drought to six weeks. The rain, when it comes, may be too little, too late for many local farmers.

Hustlers sweep opening series

The Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers have swept the opening series with Pontypool in three straight games.

The series started last Wednesday night in Minden with the locals jumping on the Pontypool pitcher for six big runs in the first two innings only to have the visitors tie it up in the third inning.

For the next three innings it was a pitcher's duel between Jack Snell and Randy McLeod. The Hustlers opened up in the sixth inning scoring five big runs to win the contest. Snell was the winning pitcher. Bernie Nicolls slammed two home runs for the Hustlers, while Barry Shaw, Greg Newell and Rick Hartwick all pounded out three hits each.

The second game on Thursday night in Pontypool was an eleven inning marathon with the Hustlers finally winning by the score of 10 to 8.

The Hustlers got on the board first with a run in the second only to have Pontypool bounce back with four runs in their half of the inning. The Hustlers came back with two more runs in the third but then gave up two more runs in the fourth to trail 6-3. The locals scored a run in each of the next three innings to tie the score and set the stage for extra innings.

The Hustlers scored two runs in the ninth only to have Pontypool tie the score in their half of the inning. The Hustlers finally won the game as they scored two runs in the eleventh inning. Snell was the winning pitcher. Dave Dollo and Rick Hartwick were the big guns at the bat for the locals pounding out four hits each.

The final game of the series on Sunday afternoon in Minden was a real crowd pleaser as the locals squeezed out a 4-3 win to take the series in three straight games.

The Hustlers hit the score board in the first inning with two runs. Pontypool got one back in the second. Barry Shaw hit a two run homer in the third to give the locals a 4-1 lead but the visitors bounced back with two home runs in the fourth inning to make the score 4-3.

From here on it was a pitchers game. Jack Snell was the winning pitcher. As the final score was 4-3 for the Hustlers and a berth into the Tri-County finals against either Lindsay York Tavern or the Lindsay Juniors. York is currently leading the series 2 games to nothing.

Watch for posters around town and this paper for when this final series will start.

Hustlers catcher Dave Dollo, (7) makes a dive for the ball as a Ponty Pool player slips by him to score during the opening game of the semi-final series Wednesday night. The Hustlers went on to win the game and sweep the series three games straight. The Hustlers are waiting for the series between York tavern and Lindsay Juniors to be completed before beginning the Tri-County finals.

Guilford takes ladies tourney

The Haliburton County Ladies Softball League held a very successful tournament last weekend in Wilberforce. Twelve teams competed in the three day event. The teams that competed had a great time and local fans had a chance to see some great ball being played.

West Guilford went undefeated and came away with the Labatt's trophy, hats and money. They defeated Minden Dixie Lee, Bancroft Red and White and Lindsay. Marla MacNaull was named MVP.

In the B Division Norland defeated Paudash, Minden and Kellars from Bancroft to take that division. Their pitcher Karen Doherty was named MVP.

The members of the executive would like to thank all the local merchants who donated toward the food concession booth, and the teams for their help running it.

League play

In local action last week Minden Dixie Lee are still in first place after their two wins against the Minden Juniors and Carnarvon. The game that was played Tuesday night at home saw a 18 - 6 win for Dixie Lee. They were led by Helen Burk, Jane Symons and Rhonda Wilson. Nelda Culley picked up the win while Andrea Burk was tagged with the loss.

On Wednesday night, the Minden Dixie Lee played at Carnarvon where Lori Brown Wood and Marg Fielding led the way at the plate. Nelda Culley got the win while Lil Gorveatte got the loss.

In other action, Haliburton Seniors used the Wilberforce field on Monday night because their field was being used for the Carnival. It was anyone's game until the top of the seventh when Gail Krupa and Jo Olszewski both hit home runs to lead Wilberforce to a 11 - 9 count.

Wednesday night Wilberforce travelled to Haliburton to take on the Haliburton Juniors. The game ended in a 13 - 13 tie. The Juniors had a good night from Miriam Smith and Pam Iles while Cindy Ablett and Kris Storey were good at the plate for Wilberforce.

Davies shines in soccer win

Tim Davies led the attack as the Haliburton Dixie Lee soccer team notched another win during the weekend. Tim scored all three goals as the local team defeated Bracebridge Centennials 3-2.

The win provided the team with a bit of 'sweet revenge' as it was the Bracebridge squad which defeated the Haliburton team in their home opener at the beginning of the season. The victory on Sunday came in Bracebridge.

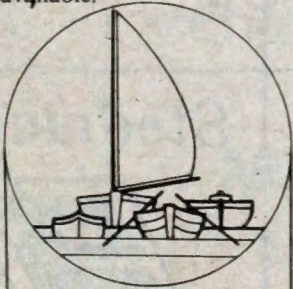

Davies' fast running is credited with his top goal scoring ability. With his team mates feeding him the ball in behind the opposing defense line, Davies is able to sneak the ball past the netminders.

The win places the Haliburton team in sixth spot in the eight team league. Jim Milne, one of the team's organizers, commented, "We've come a long way since the start of the season. The team has improved markedly, gaining confidence as the season goes on."

The Haliburton Soccer players will face what is perhaps their toughest test this Sunday when, in an exhibition game, they meet the Peterborough Marauders. The game will be played at 3 p.m. at the HHSS field. Everyone is invited to take in the game and cheer on the team.

The Haliburton team has four more games in its regular league schedule, two to be played at home. Details on those games will be provided as they become available.

Water levels continue drop

Dry conditions similar to the summer of 1975 continue to prevail over Southern Ontario. Watersheds of the Trent and Severn Rivers are reacting in the same manner as in that year as well, to the high evaporation rates. Storage water in Haliburton Lakes had declined about 4.5% from July 11th to 79.5% on July 18th. This level is about 1% lower than the 1970-79 average for the date.

As a matter of historical note the Trent-Severn records show that the stored water in these lakes amounted to only some 53% on this date in 1958 and 41% the same date in 1931. Present conditions are certainly not the driest we have seen!

Kawartha Lakes levels are now (July 22.) being allowed to decline a few centimeters into their respective navigation ranges as the summer progresses. This along with the minimum discharge being allowed to leave the Kawartha down the Otonabee River, are about the only measures available to mitigate the draw of reservoir water. Reservoir flows have been increased again this week as well to partially match the losses being sustained.

Three wheelers race set

Moto-cross style of racing for motorized three wheelers is on the agenda again for this Saturday at the Minden arena. The event, sponsored by the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association is slated for Saturday afternoon, beginning at 12:30.

According to Mark Lester, one of the organizers of this weekend's event, the track has been designed so the average rider can take part. "We're not interested in professional class racing at this point," Lester commented. "There will be some professionals in attendance, but they will be racing against each other. We want to appeal to the average guy who owns a three wheeler."

The races take place over natural terrain which has been recently groomed. Bumps have been added to test the skill of the driver as have sharp turns. The racing takes place within a fenced off area with the course clearly marked.

The events are open to anyone although the organizers have reserved the right to restrict participation. In particular they are very concerned about safety and insist that riders have helmets, that their machines are inspected prior to the race and that proper clothing is worn. Shorts and running shoes just won't do. The age limit for the races is 16.

An entry fee of $5 per class will be assessed. Racers can compete in higher classes if they wish.

"We hope to attract over 50 competitors, especially now since the success of the first event several weeks ago," Lester commented. "Posters have been sent out to dealers letting everyone know what we are planning."

Pilot, passengers unhurt in crash

Three people escaped serious injuries when the aircraft in which they were travelling crashed shortly after take off from a lake near Dorset.

Manfred Humphries of Toronto was the pilot of a light plane which had just lifted off the surface of Crozier Lake in McClintock Township. The pilot apparently banked sharply to one side but had not attained enough airspeed to clear the trees at the side of the lake.

Travelling with the pilot were passengers Isla Humphries and Marilyn Fryer.

The accident was investigated by Constable Barry Connelly.

Riders drift around the track during recent three wheeler races in Minden. The machines will be in action again this Saturday behind the Minden arena.

According to Lester there is a strong body of three wheel owners who are looking for places to race. At the moment organized events are few and far between, however the popularity of the machines will no doubt mean races, similar to the ones planned for Minden this weekend will soon be commonplace.

Lester feels that the popularity of the three wheel machines will soon outstrip snowmobiles and dirt bikes. "The three wheelers appeal to all age levels," he commented.

Lester noted that the growing interest in three wheel machines is strongest in the rural areas. "The market in Toronto is nil at the moment," he said. "The phenomenon belongs to the country, outside the city."

Organizing an event of this size is no small task, as Lester well knows. "Without the support of the HCSA, and particularly Barry Stewart and Leroy Lichty, we wouldn't be as far ahead in this game as we are. The local contractors who helped in the recent re-grooming of our track also deserve a vote of thanks," he added.

The local event is sponsored in part by Prentice Roads. Admission for Saturday's races is $2, children under 12 admitted free of charge.

SPOT THE SHOT

It seems that contest number three was an easy one. All the entries received correctly identified the location and the lakes above and below the dam. The spot in question is on Highway 35 just by Hart Lodge where the dam separates Twelve Mile Lake from Mountain Lake. Our congratulations and a $25 shopping certificate redeemable at either Minden or Haliburton Red and White stores goes out to Mrs. Marjorie Cowen of R.R. 1, Haliburton. Her entry was chosen by lot from all those received. Best of luck to the other entrants who all correctly identified our mystery spot. They include: Lorna Hicks, Milton Sears, Sandy Cole, Gerald Morrison, Alvin Cowen, Jean Morrison, Carrie Drysdale, Dave Farrell, Diane Cowen, Mrs. D. Casey, Mrs. Mary Gilchrist, and Dean Solway.

Here's a shot we think you'll find more challenging. All you need to know is the name of the lake above the dam. Send your entry to Spot the Shot Contest, c/o The Times, Box 97, Minden, Ontario. Please mark your entry contest No. 5 and indicate your name and address. The deadline for entries is August 8. The winner will be announced in the August 10 edition of The Times. Good luck!

SATURDAY

Sunny

As you enter the main dining room of the Fireside Restaurant, Highway 35 Minden, the reasoning behind the selection of the name becomes obvious. The north wall of the rustic dining room is dominated by a floor to ceiling fieldstone fireplace. The warmth generated by the hearth, in the winter when it is lit and now by its ambiance, is reflected in the rich tones of the wood framed cathedral ceiling and panelled walls. You know at once that this is a place in which you can relax.

Your feeling is confirmed as you are greeted by your hosts, Gunter and Helen Tragert or one of their friendly and obliging staff.

The menu here includes an interesting and varied selection of entrees including steak au poivre -- eight ounces of New York Steak, pepper seasoned, brandy flambe with a creamy wine sauce -- or lemon sole almondine -- sole, sauteed golden brown with roast almonds and lemon butter. Other specialties include veal suedoise and fresh water pickerel, all prepared under the watchful eye of the Fireside's chef.

Your meal would not be complete without a slice of Black Forest cake, made right on the premises. Or try an Irish coffee.

The Fireside is also a perfect spot for a tasty luncheon. A special noontime menu lets you choose from several of the restaurant's specialties or select a lighter meal that is just as tasty and pleasing.

Sunday is a special day at the Fireside Restaurant. Sundays they feature the smorgasbord in true Swedish tradition. Choose from a tempting array of piping hot entrees and cold dishes, including crisp salads. The Sunday smorgasbord is a popular tradition in the Highlands so it is wise to arrive early.

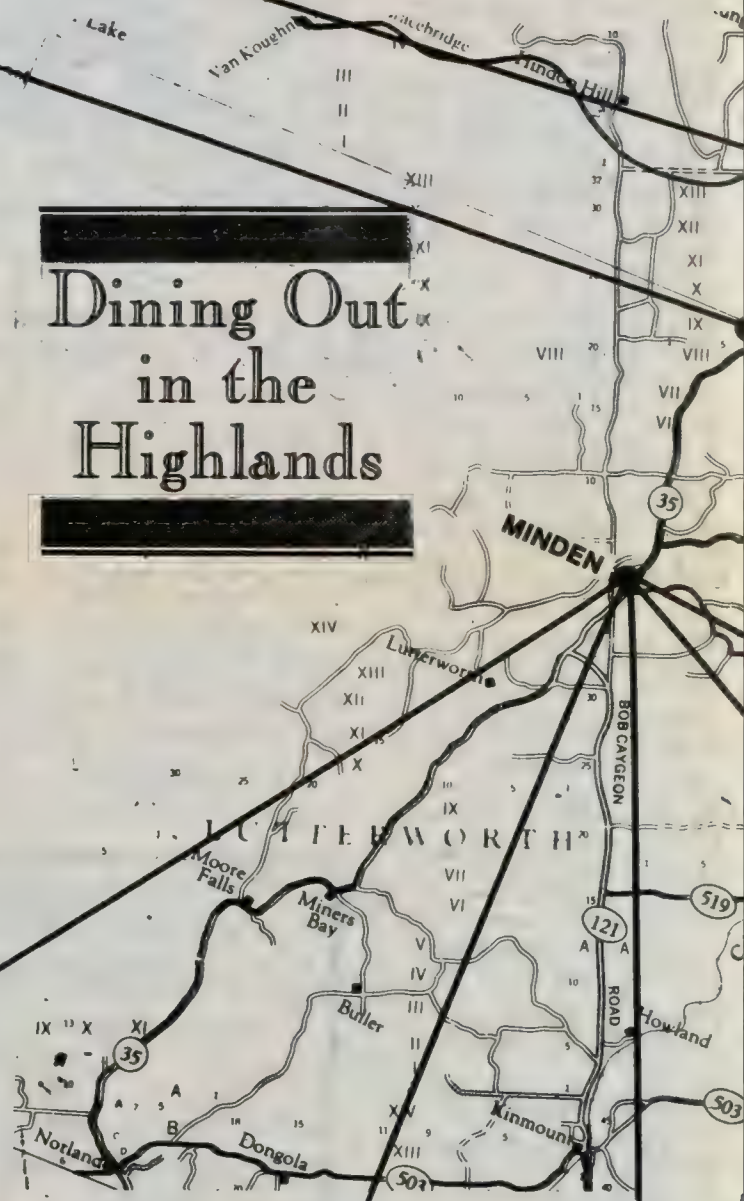

The main dining room at the Fireside also serves as the setting for special entertainment during the summer months. Music in a quieter, more mellow mood offered by guitarists or pianists makes the Fireside a pleasant after hours retreat and a great place to entertain guests.

The Fireside is open seven days a week during the summer. They are closed Mondays in the off-season. The restaurant is fully licenced and accepts major credit cards. Call for reservations, 286-1191.

Major upset in Can-Am tilt

In the world of international sport, no competition is probably less well known than the coveted Can-Am Eight Ball Championship.

There are probably few in the sporting world who were aware this annual test of billiard table technique and finesse takes place and even less who are aware that Minden has played host to it for the past four years.

This event, which pits the cue shooting talents of Mike Mohs of San Francisco against the adroit cushion shots of Jack White formerly of Toronto and now out of Chicago, has been played at the Rockcliffe Tavern for the past four years. This year saw the undefeated champion for the past three years, Mike Mohs, go down to a close 4 game to 3 defeat. The trophy, emblematic of pool table supremacy, is his to hold until next season.

Commenting on Mike's previous string of wins, Jack commented, "Mike wins every year because he is better than me."

Jack, who has a cottage on Pigeon Lake, was as surprised as anyone else at his victory. "I won," he declared following the final and deciding game, "I won."

Which just goes to show you that people with a large trophy and a silly story can sometimes convince the editor of this newspaper to put their picture in the paper.

Mike Mohs, left, of San Francisco, former undefeated Can-Am Eight Ball Champion, poses with the hardware he lost and the new victor, Jack White, prior to the start of this year's competition.

Looking back

Charles Landy MacDermott has furnished us, over the past few weeks, with an interesting insight into life in pioneer Haliburton County. Through the pamphlet he published upon his return to England, entitled Facts for Emigrants, he described what awaited those who were contemplating a move to Canada in the 1870s. In this, his final installment, he discusses the expense a newcomer to this part of Canada might expect to encounter. He also recounts some of his experiences in the communities, describing both the acrimonious aspects of life in the new world and the oneness in spirit and cause which drew these hearty pioneers together in times of need and struggle.

The Government papers say that a settler in going into the woods should have £40 of capital. The government is right, though many a man carves out an independence who carries nothing to the woods but his axe. It is clear that for twelve months a new settler must live on his own resources, for he cannot raise any crops in less time than that; and the first year he seldom does more than raise enough potatoes and flour to supply him, until his second crop comes to hand. In this settlement a man has a better chance than elsewhere for the Company have works in progress that employs much labour, and he can get a job of work at almost any period of the year. An instance is before me at this minute, of two young men aged seventeen and twenty-two, who came to Canada five years ago. They hired out for the first year, and saved a little money. They then bought two-hundred acres near Haliburton, and now they have forty acres under crop, and have live stock worth 250.86 (the printing of these figures is not clear) dollars, and will sell this season probably 200 bushels of wheat and other produce in proportion. They are now building a substantial farm house, and last year put up a large barn 80 feet long. Any man who is prepared to work hard can become independent here, and have a good farm, the necessities of life in abundance, and some of the luxuries. Schooling is free, the schools in this settlement being maintained by a local taxation of which the bulk is borne by the Land Company. I find that though there is no political feeling of any kind, there is a perpetual skirmish going on about local affairs throughout each settlement I have passed through. Each settlement is divided into two or three parties, and the contentions between them are none the less acrimonious from the causes being paltry and small. Religious contentions take the lead, and the various sects manifest a most vigorous dislike to each other, in fact this is one of the disturbing influences of all new settlements. Municipal affairs also give rise to numerous local squabbles of the most petty and contemptible character. But however violent may be these animosities, it is pleasing to find that if a man is in difficulty, if his work gets ahead of him, or he is in need of help, then his neighbours come to his aid; a "bee" is called, and one and all join to lend him a hand.

...I shall be happy to give any other information that my friends may apply for; and those who contemplate emigrating to this particular section of Canada, I strongly recommend to apply to Mr. H. C. Stewart, of 41 Great Percy Street, who is intimately acquainted with Canadian affairs, and who is now engaged in establishing a cooperative system of farming in Canada, with a view to the more speedy and practical settlement of the wild lands. One such farm is now in course of formation near Haliburton, and several settlers have arrived from the old country, all of whom speak in the most favourable manner of the project. As a conclusion to these somewhat disjointed memorandums, I append a copy of Mr. Stewart's prospectus of the Haliburton Co-operative Farm.

The Haliburton Co-operative Farm is situated in the County of Peterborough, in the Canadian Province of Ontario. It is on the shore of Lake Kashagawigamog, (now known as Lake Kushog) and within half a mile of the rising village of Haliburton. Haliburton has been formed about four years, and possesses Saw and Grist Mills, and the Shops that usually mark the commencement of a village in the Backwoods.

Each person employed on the Farm will be provided with a separate Cottage furnished with provisions and necessities at cost prices, receive fair weekly wages for his work, and for the work of those members of his family whose industry is available, and will be entitled to an equitable share of the yearly profits of the Farm proportionate to the wages he has received.

The following are among the advantages offered to the emigrant. He has at once a destination to proceed to on landing in Canada, and is thereby saved loss of time, expense, anxiety, and uncertainty; and on arriving at the Farm he is ensured fair wages and constant employment for himself and family, a comfortable home, cheap provisions, Schooling at the lowest cost, and association with persons having similar objects, and of congenial habits.

Should the emigrant wish, after a time, to purchase land, and commence farming on his own account, the Managers of the Farm will assist him in making his purchase; and should he desire to remain in co-operation with the Farm they will locate him on lands immediately adjoining the property.

Further particulars and references may be obtained of Mr. H. C. Stewart, 41, Great Percy Street, Islington, London, England; or, Mr. C. R. Stewart, Post Office, Haliburton, Township, Dysart, County Peterborough, Canada West.

OFA backs tax reform

The Ontario Federation of Agriculture (OFA) has reaffirmed its support, in principle, for the proposed reforms to the farm property tax system.

The overwhelming endorsement of the reforms came at a board of directors meeting of the OFA held recently in Toronto. OFA President Ralph Barrie said the vote reflected the views of the majority of Ontario farmers.

The province's proposed reforms call for a 100 percent rebate of taxes on productive farmland. To be eligible for the rebate, farmers must have a gross income of $8,000 or $12,000, depending on the area of the province they farm in. While agreeing to the principle of the reforms, the federation opposes the income levels set by the province. The OFA wants the income level reduced to $5,000.

The federation is also concerned that the assumed lot under the house is not assessed at an inflated value.

The board's decision follows three months of meetings across the province at which the 25,000 farmers who are members of the OFA debated the reforms. The individuals' views were then summarized in the votes of the 100 county regional directors who voted at the meeting.

The OFA board originally agreed in principle with the reforms in March, 1982. However, in the following months concerns were raised by many farmers over the proposal.

"Because we wanted to make sure OFA policy reflected the views of Ontario's farmers, we sent the issue back to the counties," Barrie said.

"The reforms aren't perfect, but they are one step closer to creating a more equitable property tax system," Barrie added.

Originally, the OFA pushed for reforms because the property tax was disproportionate to their means to pay. Compared to non-farmers, paid much more of their income to property tax.

Under the present system, farmers receive a 50 percent rebate on all property taxes paid on their farms.

The OFA has been working for more than 30 years for reforms to the property tax system. Through those years the federation policies have always been based on the same principles: that property taxes should pay for property services, that people services should be paid by individuals and that farmland taxes should be based on the productive value of the land.

Canola could be profitable

Canola is a new crop which is of interest to a number of farmers. A visit to the canola plots was a highlight on the Victoria County Crop Tour last week. These small plots of both winter and spring canola are located at the Sir Sandford Fleming College in Lindsay.

Canola is the name of new improved strains of rape. The canola seed is crushed to produce a high quality edible oil. The main place crushing canola is the Canada Packers plant in Hamilton, Ontario.

Spring canola crops can produce yields of up to 2 tonnes of seed per hectare (1,600 lbs. per acre) in this area. It is hoped that winter canola could produce 2 1/2 to 3 tonnes per hectare, however there have been no field results yet in Ontario.

The winter canola plots in Lindsay were swathed last week for combining early this week. Several different varieties were tested. Seven varieties of spring canola are also located there-these are at the late flowering stage now.

Winter canola is planted about August 20, and can follow an early planted spring grain crop, or be planted in a hay or pasture field treated with Roundup before being plowed down. Both King Grain (Pride) of Chatham and W. G. Thompson (Hyland Seeds) of Blenheim are contracting some winter canola for fall 1983 seeding.

Spring canola is planted as early as possible in the spring on weed free fields with no atrazine residues. Several licensed varieties were available in 1983, or fields could be contracted with Landis Seeds of Lindsay.

If a field has mustard in it, only a triazine resistant spring canola can be grown. These are available on contract through Top Notch at Milverton.

Canola requires lots of fertility, so a soil test is essential. One part of the plot in Lindsay was short of nitrogen and there is a dramatic difference in growth.

Anyone interested in growing canola should complete a crop budget to determine its feasibility financially. Budgets are available from your Agricultural Office.

Heat unit update

After 5 weeks of hot weather, a lot of farmers are wondering how many heat units have been accumulated.

We started the growing season with cold weather in May, receiving only 209 heat units at Lindsay, compared to an average of 349. The cold weather continued into early June. By the end we were still 120 heat units behind the average, having accumulated only 820 by then.

And in spite of the seemingly hot weather in July, we are still 100 heat units behind the average at Lindsay. As of Friday, July 22, we have accumulated 1337 corn heat units.

To calculate heat units, both the maximum and minimum temperatures are used. Contrary to expectations, when it gets too hot in the daytime-over 35 degrees C. or over.

To calculate heat units, both the maximum and minimum temperatures are used. Contrary to expectations, when it gets too hot in the daytime over 35 degrees C., we actually have less heat units. To get the maximum effective heat for crops we need warmer nights in the weeks ahead.

Events this week

Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Lyle McKnight was on hand to do the honours this week as the new location of Riverview Furniture and Minden Custom Upholstery was officially opened. The businesses are now located in the former Pro Hardware building. The enlarged premises will allow the store to carry a wider selection of furniture including expanded lines of carpeting and broadloom. The furniture outlet will also soon carry a complete line of appliances. Assisting with the ribbon cutting is Len and Joyce Box.

Well folks it's still so awfully hot, I don't know if I can write or not. Rev. Burgess' family is still on holiday, but don't worry John, the service Sunday night was conducted just right when the Thompsons took it on.

Mary Oliver has gone to Toronto, to have the doctors see if they can do something to help her painful knee. Alfred Richardson has gone to visit his daughter-in-law for a few days, we surely miss Alfred when he's away.

We watched three movies Monday night, they were quite grand, "The Fraser River", "City Port" and "Changing Greenland." A group of young people from different countries are touring Canada to find out what happened way back in '18. Monday afternoon they came to Hyland Crest, thinking the old timers could answer their requests.

To do this we sure did our best. How the forests were cleared by men wearing jeans who lived on sow belly, potatoes and beans. They went to the woods with axes and saw and a quid of tobacco rolled up in their jaw. They cleared enough land to build a log shack and kept on clearing and never looked back. Doris took all in the bus so they could at a glance how much Minden had advanced. Up to the White Water at the foot of Horseshoe, to the Minden Dam and Rotary Park too, up to Pikes Peak and up to the Fair Grounds, so we really showed them around.

Tuesday morning Rev. Westhaver of Minden United Church held a very interesting service in the chapel. He told how the doctors said this person had died, they could get no pulse or heart beat, no matter how they tried. The dead man was having a real experience, talking with his Saviour, when he awakened, he had this strange story to tell and all was well.

On Tuesday afternoon about one o'clock Doris took us in the bus to Kirkfield Liftlocks. Linda came along, Fred and Beth Parker too, without the help of these dear friends what would we ever do? To some of the residents this was something new and as we watched, we saw two boats go through.

Amelia Good and Olive Hamilton had birthdays the same day, Amelia told how many years, but Olive didn't say. Mark Schell back from holidays, I asked if he caught any fish or not and he said "he didn't try the weather was too hot."

All here were saddened when we learned of the passing of Leslie McGuire, our deepest sympathy to his wife and family.

Thursday morning at Fun and Fitness playing bucket ball Violet Deumo made the highest score of all. Thursday afternoon the ladies from Lutterworth Pines served a tea party that was really fine, stayed and washed the dishes, did a good job too, if we didn't have these tea parties we would be rather blue.

Our entertainers came again on Friday, Grace to lead the singing and Norma came to play. It was such a lovely afternoon, Norma walked all the way. Grace always has poems and songs that always give us a thrill, we hope they keep coming, we're sure that they will.

Some of our residents went to Stanhope Field Day. We didn't go, I would just be in the way. I am crippled up you see with stiffening joints and water on the knee.

The Robertson sisters went to a Blue Grass "Doo" will they come in Monday morning looking rather blue?

The Best Treasure

Congratulations and all best wishes to Barb and Gerry Poirier of the Pink Elephant, who became the proud parents of a baby boy, Jakob Leo, weighing 7 lbs. 12 1/2 oz., at Humber Memorial Hospital on Tuesday, July 19th.

I am sorry to report the deaths of Leslie McGuire of Hyland Crest, and Royce Cowen, whose family resides in Blairhampton, last week. Our deepest sympathy to their families and friends.

Frieda Harrison has left on a trip to Markdale for a week with her brother and sister-in-law.

Mrs. Vera Ward and Mrs. Gladys Wruth went to Bobcaygeon to attend the Fiddler's Contest.

Mrs. Lil Porter spent a few days with her son Bill in Oshawa.

Friends will be sorry to hear that Verna Jarvis is presently confined to Minden Hospital.

Mrs. Diane Stevens is home from the hospital and is convalescing nicely.

Mrs. Mary Windover is spending a week with her family at Kennis Lake.

The Thrift Shop will be open this Friday from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Hopefully it will be open every Friday.

Debbie and Paul Hewitt visited with their Grandmother Joyce over the weekend.

The winners of the afternoon card party last Thursday at the Library Cultural Centre were Lone Hands Irene Houghton and others May Spence and Alice Todd. Everyone is welcome to these parties so come out on Thursdays and support the Museum Fund.

We would like to extend sincere thanks and best wishes to Dennis Dolloff, Summer Assistant to Reverend George Elliott for all his help while he was here in our community. I am sure that it was as rewarding an experience for us as it was for him. So from us our very best and God bless.

Father George Elliott is at present in Vancouver attending the World Council of Churches being held in British Columbia. The theme for the council is "Jesus Christ the Life of the World."

The Wheels to Meals will hold a Barbecue at the Wagon Wheel for Seniors on July 26th. The pool will be open at 10 a.m., then the barbecue followed by an afternoon of cards. Tickets are $4.00.

St. Stephen's Guild will hold their Summer Bazaar and Tea on Wednesday, July 27th at Club 35 at Hall's Lake, starting at 3 p.m. Come early as the bazaar usually sells out quickly.

The Deckhand Puppets will present a free performance for children on Friday, July 29th, consisting of Aladdin and Aesop's Fables, in the Common Room of the Minden Cultural Centre beginning at 3 p.m.

There will also be free movies shown for children on Friday evening from 7:15 to 8:15 p.m. Everyone is welcome to these shows.

Come one, come all to the Art Mart on Saturday, July 30 consisting of many kinds of arts and crafts, at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery. There should be a wonderful assortment of things to be purchased and it is a good time to think of Christmas shopping. At any rate do drop in to see our display.

Muriel Ewing, Scott and Sandra Sears and Logan all of Toronto visited with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sears for a holiday.

Congratulations to Mrs.

Janie Kent who celebrated her 86 birthday July 22 at her home with family and friends. But sorry to hear her son Lorne who lives home with her is confined to Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay. All wish him a speedy recovery.

Pat and Gordon Gibson were pleased to have as guests at their cottage on Little Bob Lake, John and Tania Baker from Portsmouth, England. Also visiting was their Aunt Debora and cousins Kimberly and Michael. Tanya extends thanks to Tim and Calvin for their splendid cordiality.
